THE POLITICAL SITUATION

On the 20th of April last I addressed to the Winnipeg papers the political programme which I reprint today.

As far as I know, of the Winnipeg daily papers, the Telegram was the only English newspaper in whose columns it found favor of reproduction.

I did not at the time entertain the idea of presenting myself to the electorate; I was content with my life as a private citizen, keeping myself in contact with public life in editing my small weekly newspaper Le Manitoba.

Events have brought me back to the position of member for St. Boniface.

I have presented myself on my programme as an independent; as such I have been elected and such I am to-day.

I believe that the last elections have proven clearly the accuracy of many points brought forth in that article.

I therefore take the liberty of presenting it to my elected colleagues with the humble request that they condescend to the reading and perusing of same.

We should soon be called upon to meet at a regular session of the Legislature; it is the plain duty of the Norris government to convene parliament as soon as possible in view of the fact that the majority of the representatives elected belong to different groups independent of the government and in view of the fact that the government has failed to elect a majority of their own supporters.

The majority in the house belong to-day to the independents and unless the Norris government modify its views on many problems it must give way to those whose policies have been endorsed by the majority of the electorate.

Never perhaps in the political history of Manitoba have greater responsibilities than those of to-day fallen upon the shoulders of the peoples' representatives.

We have just come through a war which has upset everything; the world has changed and new problems are facing us in all their seriousness.

Have we been rendered wiser and better citizens by the lessons of the war or shall we continue to follow the old beaten tracks covered with narrow ideas and race, creed and class prejudices.

Shall we come out of the war more at war than we were before or shall we be men enough to rise above class strife to unite frankly as brothers with one aim in view; the full development of our country ressources and the fair and equitable division of this world's goods amongst our citizens to whatever class they may belong.

Prosperity or ruin is to-day at our door; it is for us to decide which we shall choose.

The old political parties have lost control, but class groups will not govern, unless they can unite under a broad flag and unless they will stand together on a common platform whose strongest planks will be justice and charity to all.

To attain that end every one must be ready to meet his colleague in a spirit of moderation, as a brother meets his brother and not as an enemy trying to get the best of his antagonist.

The heart of the people is sick to-day and the old political remedies will not be sufficient to cure the public malady.

The best elements of our population are just now looking for the organization of a new party which shall represent law and order, fair treatment to all, respect between all classes and the recognition of the duties that each and every one owes to God, the King, one's neighbor and the country's constitution.

Is there a union possible within those lines?

Joseph Bernier.

PROGRAMME

The social question stands today above all others. The first aim of a political organization must be the harmony between all classes.

The social question must be solved by the governmental action whose machinery is politics.

Such as shall be the legislation, such shall be the accord between classes, such shall be peace and such shall be the prosperity of the country.

Now, neither peace nor prosperity shall exist if our political parties do not place at the base of their programme the absolute principle of justice and charity.

All men are brethren! Yes! But let us open our eyes and we shall easily see that the human family is today lamentably divided.

The same uneasiness which exists actually in Europe exists also in America, and if the battle out there is more bloody, nothing can authorize us to definitely say that we shall not ourselves, here, some day, have to pass through the same storm.

In Canada the minds are troubled and the cart of state has fallen back into the old track; the routes that we were used to follow have disappeared—one can no more see the direct route.

The political world is upset.

To the two great political parties which up to now were dividing the public favor, have succeeded parties in number so numerous that it is a cause of stupefaction to everybody.

We are in a state of chaos!

The bulwarks of the old parties have been broken; the most sincere and the most devoted partisans are sailing at random and it is in vain that they are looking for the flag which they loved and for the defence of which they were fighting cheerfully and with fervour.

Is the Canadian condition less strange than the condition of the political parties in the other countries? No.

The thirst for power, money and ease has contaminated everybody and the societies are in disorder. Not any more perhaps than the other organizations, but to a similar degree have the political parties forgotten the rules of right, justice and charity which in the past were the secret of thier strength and glory and the assurance of public support.

Still Waiting

The old army chiefs have fallen down to the rank of chiefs of clans and instead of rising above the clamour of the profiteer and of the demagogues so as to give to the state's ship a vigorous direction in a broad and honest way, they have become the slaves of turbulents who are leading them in guerrilla warfare which will have no other result but the total ruin of everybody.

We are amongst those who, since a long time, have waited from our leaders for a declaration of a large generous, just and clear political programme and a wise and precise direction. We have waited in vain. Shall we look for the reason in the apathy, the individual jealousy, the fear of frank declarations, or in the narrowness of mind, we do not know and we do not for the moment try to do it. For the instant we simply desire to state the fact.

Notwithstanding the esteem and respect that we entertain for many [illegible] those who in the past have been our friends and brethern in arms, we find ourselves in the sad obligation to admit that the superior foresight which was the great characteristic of our former leaders and which gave them the power to bring under their command the diverse elements composing our population, does not seem to be the greatest asset of our actual leaders.

We shall refrain for the moment to enter into the field of federal politics. One thing at a time. We feel, however, that we would be remiss in our duty if, in the local domain, on the eve of the election which is to take place, we did not squarely take position. The moment is serious and it is important that everyone should be at his post of combat. Let us say immediately that we do not wish to advise our compatriots to stand in an isolation which would be prejudicial. We believe that in a province like ours alliances are necessary, provided they are frank and honorable. In the past we have made alliances which we do not regret; it would be regrettable not only for us but for the country in general that the future should not keep in reserve other alliances.

Let us, however, keep our attention to the present moment and let us see if there is no possibility to elaborate a programme and organize an action which can appeal to all men of good will.

The Commoner

After five years of power, the Norris government goes before the people weakened and divided—open revolt is in the camp.

The Liberal-Conservative party, to which we have ourselves belonged all our life, suffers of the same division, because it has abandoned the loyal politics of generous, frank and courageous adhesion to the fundamental principles of the constitution.

The labor man withdraws from the ancient political quarters and wants a party of his own.

The farmer claims the political direction of the country.

The capitalist plays the game in the dark.

The ordinary man, the "consumer," who belongs to the class which is the most numerous and the less protected, alone is inactive and patiently allows the others to pluck him.

Is it not about time that the ordinary or common people affirm themselves?

The commoner can very well invite under his flag all classes of the society, all races, all creeds, all interests, all men sincerely desirous of peace and prosperity in the country.

The fight between classes shall lead us to ruin. The union between the moderate representatives of all classes will lead us to prosperity.

Do to others what you would wish to be done to yourselves. In a word, "justice and charity." Let a party be organized with that motto and that party shall be able to claim its share of influence in the direction of the affairs of this country.

Every political programme shall carry at its head respect and obedience to God and to the lawful authority the King. Childhood has a right to the knowledge of Christian principles. It therefore goes on to say that religious education shall be given in school, the preponderant situation to which it is entitled. Canada is a country governed by the British crown. It must therefore be an admitted law that the English language shall be taught perfectly in every school in the province. The French language, apart from its undeniable constitutional rights, being recognized the world over as a language which is absolutely necessary, should receive from the legislators all the protec-

Réponse de Monseigneur A l'adresse de M. J. A. Cusson.

Monsieur le Président,

En ces jours d'apostasie publique de peuples autrefois chrétiens, il fait bon entendre proclamer par les représentants officiels d'un groupe national leur fidélité à la Sainte Eglise, continuatrice de l'oeuvre de Notre-Seigneur Jésus-Christ sur la terre, et dernier boulevard de l'ordre ici-bas.

Enfant de Saint-Boniface, il m'est doux de recevoir l'expression d'affectueux attachement de ceux qui sont mes frères à plus d'un titre. Sorti de vos rangs hier, songeant à ce que je suis, je sens le besoin de redire en forme de prières l'exhortation que faisait saint Paul à son disciple Timonthé :

"Que personne ne te méprise à "cause de ta jeunesse; mais, sois "l'exemple des fidèles en parole, "en conduite, en charité, en foi, "chasteté. . . .

"Ne reprends pas avec rudesse "un vieillard, mais avertis-le com-"me un père, les jeunes gens com-"me des frères, les femmes âgées "comme des mères, celles qui sont "jeunes comme des soeurs."

Enfant de cette paroisse, il m'est facile d'entrer dans ces sentiments, puisque mon coeur m'y incline autant que ma foi. Votre foi vous fait facilement passer de la sphère des sentiments naturels, si nobles soient-ils, à celle du surnaturel, et, comme vous dites très bien, c'est à la Sainte Eglise catholique, représentée par son premier chef, dans ce diocèse, que vient l'élément laïque pour faire profession de foi au caractère surnaturel de cette église.

Il m'est doux de recevoir cette profession de foi nationale, et je sais que je serai bienvenu à vous redire la parole inspirée:

"Préparez vos coeurs au Sei-"gneur, et servez-Le, lui seul, et Il "vous délivrera de tous vos enne-"mis."—1er Liv. des Rois.

Comme groupe national, inutile de le cacher, nous avons en ce pays des ennemis qui veulent notre disparition et qui y travaillent d'une manière inlassable.

La fierté nationale, tout autant que le souci de sauvegarder notre foi, nous font un impérieux devoir de résister, et cette résistance doit se faire dans des conditions de lutte tellement inégales, que ce serait témérité de penser réussir sans l'aide de Dieu.

Pour Dieu, nous sauver contre un ennemi ou contre mille, c'est tout un; il importe de ne pas l'oublier.

Y eut-il jamais lutte plus inégale que celle qu'entreprit Jeanne d'Arc avec les moyens humains dont elle disposait, et ceux du royaume d'Angleterre, maître des trois-quarts de la France, et ayant des influences puissantes qui s'exerçaient dans l'autre quart. Mais parce u'il avait choisi la France pour être son missionnaire et son soldat, Il lui envoie une enfant, une humble vierge qui n'a jamais connu le maniement des armes pour rendre ce royaume à son roi, après se l'être faite adjugé par document notarié, pour le donner d'abord à Dieu. Et la France a été sauvée.

Quel fut l'objet de la mission divine de Jeanne d'Arc?

Garder à la France sa langue et sa foi. Qui oserait nier que ce sont bien les deux grandes choses qui étaient menacées de disparaître par l'occupation de trois-quarts de la France par l'Angleterre, passée récemment à l'hérésie.

Est-il téméraire de voir quelque analogie entre la position du royaume de France d'alors et celle du Canada français d'aujourd'hui? Dieu voulait faire du royaume de France délivré son soldat et son missionnaire. Peut-on sans renier trois siècles de notre histoire ne pas croire que tel a été notre rôle sur cette terre d'Amérique? Ceux qui en douteraient encore n'ont qu'à lire un livre récent, publié par un grand Canadien et intitulé: "Le Canada Apostolique", pour en être convaincus.

La fidélité à cette mission est pour nous une condition nécessaire de survivance, et comme elle comporte des difficultés il [illegible] faut d'abord recourir à Dieu [illegible] de vous [illegible] en félici-

"Préparez vos coeu[illegible] ante; je vous "gneur, et servez-Le [illegible] nombre de ceux "Il vous délivrera de [illegible] livres disent . "nemis."

Cet acte de foi [illegible] ont en pleurant, tant la merveilleusnt la semence; sauvé la France et avec des cris de grande tribulation, nous ne manquerons pas de faire les efforts voulus pour nous rendre dignes de la protection divine.

Au théologien qui, voulant s'assurer de l'esprit qui l'animait, disait à Jeanne :

"Mais si Dieu a résolu de sauver la France, qu'avons-nous besoin de combattre", elle répondit:

"Les hommes d'armes batailleront, et Dieu donnera la victoire."

Parfois le manque évident de bonne foi, le reniement des contrats les plus clairs font monter l'indignation au coeur. Comme vous, je comprends cette impression; elle ne peut manquer de se produire chez tous les hommes de coeur. Mais restons calmes décidés à nous rendre jamais.

Notre part de bataille sera de prendre en pratique ce qu'on nous refuse au nom d'une prétendue loi, faisons-le hardiment, et espérons en Dieu.

L'ambiance anglaise au Canada n'est guère plus rassurante pour la foi catholique qu'elle le ne l'était pour la France, au temps de Jeanne d'Arc. Première raison de tenir bon.

C'est ce double trésor que vous voulez défendre; je vous en félicite, et je prie Dieu de bénir vos efforts.

L'effort est pénible; sa continuité lassera peut-être le courage des moins persévérants; je vous souhaite d'être au nombre de ceux dont nos Saints Livres disent :

"Ils vont, ils vont en pleurant,
"Portant et jetant la semence;
"Ils reviendront avec des cris de joie
"Portant les gerbes de leur moisson."

(Ps. CXXV. 61.)

tion and the encouragement required to give to the child of whose parents it is the wish, every opportunity to acquire a perfect knowledge of same before he leaves school.

Let Us be United

We have brought to our plains a great number of citizens of foreign extraction. It is the duty of the citizens of Canadian origin to cease the use, when speaking of them, of the outrageous term of "foreigners". Once naturalized Canadian, they became Canadian subjects like anybody else, with the same duties, but with the same rights.

They have the same right to the deputation as we have; they have the right to have in the legislature representatives who will see that their beliefs and ideals are respected. The best way to make of them good and patriotic Canadian citizens is to admit them among us squarely, to give them the consideration and respect to which they are entitled.

The laborer, the farmer, have rights which cannot be denied by any citizen interested in the welfare of the country. They have unquestionably the right to be represented in parliament.

The anarchist-laborer must be separated from the loyal unions which are necessary to the maintenance of the good understanding between employers and employees; but the capitalist, profiteer and greedy, must be hunted and placed in the same category as the anarchist of whom he is the brother; he must be separated from the class of the honest capitalist who wants the employment of the capital for the greatest good of the society in general.

In a word, if we want a prosperous country, we must have the sincere union between all classes and not the division of the national forces and energies which is facing us at the present time.

I will say to my compatriots, to all classes, to all races, living together in this country, have we not an important role to play in this province of Manitoba, in this province which is the central link uniting together all the provinces of the Canadian confederation.

Let us be united, let us elaborate a programme, let us take as standard the constitution of the country, and let us enter into the battle which is being set at present.

The results which we shall obtain shall open the eyes of a great number.

Joseph Bernier.

COUPS DE PLUME

Un pauvre toqué vient de traverser l'océan pour le seul plaisir de se fourrer dans un baril et de sauter les Chutes Niagara.

Le baril a sauté et il est allé se fendre en mille miettes sur les roches qui bordent le pied de la chute, tuant à l'instant son malheureux prisonnier.

L'aventure n'avait rien d'intelligent et ne demandait aucune habilité.

Un mannequin dans le baril aurait tout aussi bien fait le tour; il s'agissait simplement de la force de résistance du baril.

Pourquoi les autorités permettent-elles ces exploits ridicules et criminels?

Au lieu de laisser le champ libre à la victime, soit par tolérance ou manque de surveillance, on devrait coffrer tout de suite l'halluciné qui croit faire son nom avec cette sinistre prouesse.

Dans le cas présent le malheureux laisse neuf enfants et une épouse qui n'auront plus qu'à pleurer le chef de famille qui follement, et sans raison, s'est jeté volontairement dans les bras de la mort.

On pourrait se demander si les orphelins n'ont pas droit de réclamer contre la société qui permet la consommation de ce drame stupide et tragique.

Le peuple métis lundi dernier à commémoré d'une belle manière le cinquantenaire de l'entrée du Manitoba dans la confédération canadienne.

Une messe a d'abord été chantée par Sa Grandeur Mgr Béliveau dans l'église de Saint-Norbert, pour les morts de la nation.

Un magnifique banquet a été ensuite servi par les dames métis à l'ombre des grands bois qui avoisinent le présbytère.

Des discours patriotiques ont été prononcés par Sa Grandeur Mgr l'Archevêque, le Rév. M. Cloutier, M. Joseph Bernier, M. Duncan McDougall et le président de l'association M. G. Charrette.

Dans l'après-midi l'Honorable Juge Prud'homme et M. deTrémaudan ont donné des conférences sur l'histoire de la nation métisse.

Nous reviendrons sur cette fête car l'espace ne nous permet pas aujourd'hui de faire plus que de mentionner l'événement.

C'était fatal.... ça devait venir... ça y est!

Le gouvernement Norris n'a pu obtenir la majorité des sièges électoraux... en un mot, il est en minorité, c'est un gouvernement battu, alors le Manitoba Free Press ne voit rien autre chose à faire que de lancer le dernier et suprême signal de grande détresse... l'appel aux passions religieuses, le cri du fanatisme contre l'enseignement religieux, l'enseignement du français; il agite l'épouvantail du foreigner; il clame à l'unionsainte pour la protection de l'école nationale publique neutre non-confessionnelle et uniquement anglaise.

Un mélange de dépit, de colère et de fiel imbibe toutes les lignes d'un filandreux et fourbe article, colonne double du haut en bas de la page éditoriale.

Si Norris s'en va, on oserait, en certains quartiers, mettre le nom de Dieu au programme scolaire, il serait même possible que l'on aille jusqu'à parler français!

Quel sacrilège!!...

Citoyens du Manitoba, couvrez-vous la face, car l'Empire Britannique est en danger!

Evidemment c'est avec cela que l'on veut, au Free Press recommencer les luttes politiques au Manitoba.

Mais que fait-il donc ce même Free Press de toutes les prières qu'il adressait au ciel au moment où il craignait de se voir labourer les flancs par les baïonnettes allemandes?

Que fait-il donc de tous ses appels à l'union, au respect mutuel, aux bons traitements des minorités?

Toujours la même chose.

Patte de velours quand il y voit son intérêt, il ne manque jamais de sortir ses griffes chaque fois qu'il craint que le pouvoir politique puisse lui échapper.

Périsse la patrie, plutôt que ses serviteurs.

Que lui importe au Free Press que les différentes classes qui forment la société cherchent à s'entendre pour faire fructifier les innombrables richesses du pays dans un effort égal rehaussé par un respect mutuel, ce qu'il veut lui, pardessus tout, c'est de dominer en violentant les consciences, en faisant fi de la dignité et de l'orgueil du sang, en soufflant sur le brasier des passions religieuses.

Quel dédain superbe il a pour tout ce qui n'est pas lui!

Vraiment si c'est ainsi que doit recommencer la bataille électorale au Manitoba, nous sommes loin de la concorde et de la paix pour lesquelles nous avons tous prié avec tant d'ardeur tout en confessant notre indignité et la faiblesse de nos mérites.

Au moins il se sera trouvé un super-lumignon, ce sera le Free Press.

M. L.-J. Collin et sa petite fille Mlle Henriette Collin, sont partis pour visiter les principales ville d'Ontario et de la province de Québec. Ils visiteront aussi les Etats de l'Est.

Les 17 et 18 août sur le terrain de la Maison Provinciale des Soeurs Grises, Avenue Taché, St-Boniface, pique-nique et grande tombola au profit des orphelines et des viellards de l'institution. Amis bienveillants que la vieillesse et l'enfance intéressent, venez en foule. La voix du passé dit que l'on ne fait jamais, en vain, appel à votre charité et on compte sur votre sympathic concours. D'ici à la date mentionnée, surveillez les éditions des journaux, chaque numéro vous donnera de nouveau renseignements sur cette fête champêtre organisée pour venir en aide à une oeuvre digne de nos plus chaleureux encouragements.

Choix des Commissaires

N'oubliez pas que l'assemblée des contribuables pour le choix des Commissaires aura lieu le 19 juillet prochain.

Que tous les contribuables se fassent un devoir d'assister à cette assemblée et d'y choisir comme commissaires les plus capables et les mieux qualifiés d'entre leurs compatriotes.

Aux Commissaires

Les commissaires qui n'auraient pas encore retenu les services d'institutrices pour l'année scolaire qui va s'ouvrir bientôt pourront le faire par notre entremise. Plusieurs institutrices se sont adressées à nous sollicitant de l'emploi.

Nous ferons avec joie les intermédiaires entre les commissaires et les institutrices encore sans emploi.
